

China Medical University

Regulations for International Student Scholarship

This version is to be amended on May 23, 2012 and effective on June 21, 2012
Published by Office of Student Affairs

Purpose

Process and regulations are set herein for the provision of scholarship to foreign students being admitted to China Medical University in the spirit of academic internationalization and the enhancement of cultural exchange.

Definition of a foreign student

The status of a foreign student is defined by the Ministry of Education Regulations Regarding International Students Undertaking Studies in Taiwan.

Eligibility of applicants

- [1] Officially and currently enrolled as foreign students.
- [2] Students who are on extended stay beyond the normal period, those who have not completed the first semester and those who have accepted the government sponsored Taiwan Scholarship are not eligible to apply or disqualified.
- [3] Undergraduate students, Master candidates and Doctoral candidates should reach a total average score of >70 in academic performance and >80 in behavioral assessment with no penalty (or demerit) point in the latest semester.
- [4] Undergraduate students should complete at least nine credit units per semester.
- [5] A Master or Doctoral candidate may submit a confidential letter of recommendation written by his /her supervisor and a copy of the project proposal when no score is assigned to them during the period of research study or thesis writing.
- [6] Original application form and official transcript should be submitted to the Student Affairs Office within 30 days after the semester has started.

Award management

- [1] The scholarship period for undergraduate students depends on the study period; Master candidates have a 2-year period; Doctoral candidates have a 4- year period.
- [2] Each successful applicant receives a financial aid of NTD20,000 per semester.
- [3] Serious misconduct or dishonesty may result in disqualification, cancellation and/or return of the award.
- [4] The scholarships for foreign students in China Medical University include subsidies provided by the Ministry of Education for foreign students.

The above regulations have been discussed and approved by the university central administration.